Tips On Christmas Week

Well, folks, here it is Wednesday, December 27, 1939, with just a few more days left of this eventful year of 1939.

We are now in the middle of the Christmas Week, or are we? It seems like a month since the last Herald was published. You know, that was a balmy, sunshiny day, and then there was Friday, a duplicate of the other hundred days or maybe less that had just gone around the corner . . . and Saturday, when the real Christmas rush began, and what a day! Go away back, Old California and sit down, your sunshine and beautiful weather does not measure up to the kind that we (had) up to last Saturday, December 23, 1939, over here in West Texas.

Ye Editor did something last Saturday we had never done before — a frisky little farmer, by the name of E. Kirksey, came grinning into the Herald office with a bunch of flowers in his hands . . . a bundle of cotton blooms, pretty as roses — right there he button-holed our coat with a couple of cotton blooms and we wore them all day on the streets, just to show some of the Californians that things grow down in Jones county, Hamlin, Texas, right up to Christmas.

Did you ever see such happy folks as were in Hamlin last Saturday, and Friday too. Stores were riddled with anxious Christmas buyers. Everybody seemed to radiate Christmas. Some were planning distant trips, because of the fine weather — and from 11:00 that night kinfolks-bound cars started off, and by the mid day on Sunday as the skies became heavy and grey, like a pending gloom, every road was well crowded. If one was going west it appeared that everybody was coming east, and if one was going east it appeared that everybody was going west.

Now here we are, one who was in that jamboree-hurry, flirting with the cycle of death . . . yes, we were in that scramble of humanity Monday 200 miles west of Hamlin fighting snow, slush, slippery shoulders of the road, like a few thousand others, rushing like Europeans fleeing from the Huns or something, trying to reach home again, all in one piece if possible. Think of it! Some never saw home again . . . some slipped and sat on the roadside in the snow and cold for hours, waiting and waiting, for what, everybody knew, but none of US took time to care . . . So is life following a beautiful weather spell in West Texas . . . No it does not make good sense, but it was a part of Christmas week.

Folks, it is a hard job to pull yourself together and go to work after passing a few strenuous days, like Christmas rushes, playing Santa Claus, eating the "goose" or maybe the turkey, and all the fixin' of the Christmas feast. The old type-writer seems lazy too, and try as hard as you may, one finds it hard to get up again at the usual six A. M. and start off in the cold, snow, ice, slush, etc., after being spoiled so long with clear, mild, dry days. So the Herald this week is just like most all papers will be, just a "fill-in" to keep the "number" even, to record a few goings and comings, a few Christmas wrecks, a few marriages, a few reunions, maybe a death or two . . . just a kind of check-up to be ready for the first week in 1940 . . . NINETEEN FORTY, how strange it will be to write 1940!

This Christmas was like every other one since there was a Christmas. It was world-wide, wherever Christians live, and ignored where the Spirit is not accepted. "Peace on Earth Good Will Towards Men" was not universal, by any means. Death and destruction towards man and so many nations, made a mockery of "Peace." But for one thing, the future would be black with despair — humanity looks forward to better days and "real peace among men" — the individual sets periods for a new start, and here we are passing the Christmas week looking into a new Year, anticipating better things. It is the hope that springs eternal in the heart that propels life along a varying avenue of life.

Yes, this is Thursday of Christ-

Sunday Services At Methodist Church

You will of course share with us in the church school next Sunday morning.

MORNING WORSHIP features the choir at its best and the pastor in this subject, "Relations of An Inventory"—New Year's sermon. You might like it, who but YOU can tell—Others risk it, why not you?

EVENING WORSHIP comes on with the Junior Choir in action, and the pastor preaches on this subject: "A False Assumption." Men are not born equal! Let us analyze this subject carefully together.

YOUNG PEOPLE come with their services at 6:15 P. M. and to this they hereby issue to you a cordial invitation.

It so happens that we do not care one thing about your costume, so come on to the meeting. A welcome to all, we offer.

JOHN W. HENDRIX, Pastor

The Herald has a post card chuck full of words from Rev. John W. Hendrix. He starts off by saying, "Yes, we arrived in Oklahoma City, on time, right side up, with care. Thank the Lord—" that is enough—we know just what he means, anyone traveling last Sunday had his life on a narrow ribbon of danger; everybody meeting you or trying to get around you. It is appropriate to say "Thank the Lord," if you can talk.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jackson and son Buford went to Dumas to spend Christmas with their daughter, Mrs. R. B. Tanner and husband. They got into a little snow—just 14 inches and got back safely.

Mr. and Mrs. Denman Morgan, of San Antonio, were holiday visitors in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Morgan.

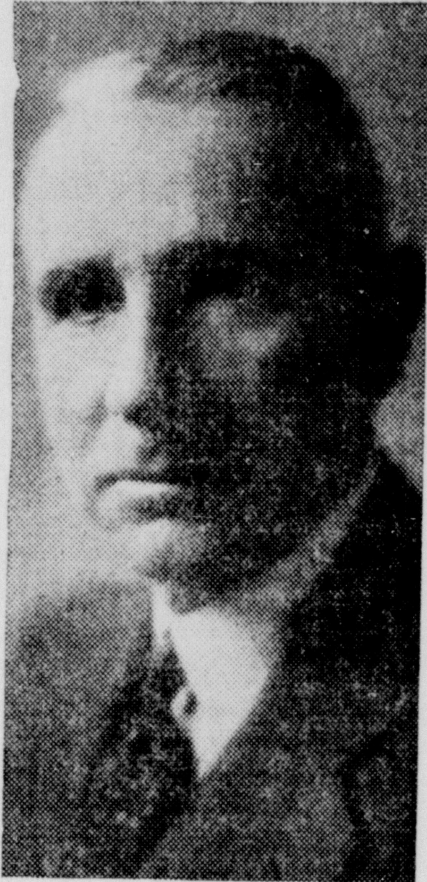

H. C. Dodson spent Christmas in Burk Burnett visiting Miss Bennie Lee Gates and friends.

Christmas week, Old Man Winter has taken a new hitch on his cold breath and again the ground is sifted with that lovely white blanket, covering the big fall of Sunday night, Monday and Monday night. This Christmas week has been an odd one . . . from sunshine and balmy weather to overhanging clouds, and far below freezing weather . . . and on many housewife's tables are bouquets of fall flowers, even in some yards are still many a "last rose of summer" . . . snapdragons, verbenas, and (let Ye Editor brag) in his yard is a Cape Jasmine loaded with bulging buds, enfeebled by the wintry blasts . . . such is life, soon all the foolish cotton blooms, the roses that held on so late, and all the sweet buds and flowers must fade away, to make ready for new life.

This Christmas week had its sadnesses, its pains and sorrows, along with the joys. Some became in too big a rush; all did. But some are looking out of hospital windows, and broken limbs are hurting. Hamlin, like nearly every community, contributed to the wreck reports. During the week some wrecks were unavoidable, while others were caused by negligence, haste, and maybe by drinks that affected the stability of the mind. It is all the same in the long run. The Christmas week was made a little more tragic because of the weather.

The Herald is chuck full of Christmas visitors, into Hamlin and out of Hamlin . . . is your name or your guest listed? Maybe not, Ye Force has been "pinched-in" by the weather too, but every living soul we contacted was asked "who came, and who went." We know lots and lots of joyful guests can not be learned for this week, but with a newspaper there is always "another week," and what is "said" cannot be unsaid, but that which has not been told can later be related. That is a happy fact. So look over the Herald this week—you will not see everything, and certainly not many advertisements (we regret) and when you see any member of the "Reporting force" peering around, looking anxious and inquiry, just bear in mind we want to learn "the news" as well as get your subscription for another year or so. This is our last "jabbering" till another year . . . ED.

Appeals for Finns

Capt. J. F. Lucey

Appointed by former President Herbert Hoover as Texas Director of the National Finnish Relief Fund, Captain J. F. Lucey urges Texans to subscribe money to aid Finnish civilians who have been driven out of house and home by the Russian attack on their country. Thousands are freezing and starving, and immediate help is necessary. Capt. J. F. Lucey was associated with Mr. Hoover during the World War in carrying American aid to the Belgians. This newspaper will be glad to accept and forward funds, giving due credit in its columns.

HAMLIN PEOPLE IN CAR PILEUPS

Monday night was a bad time for travel. It proved so to more than one Hamlin person on the road between Roby and Rotan.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Eivens of Lubbock had been Christmassing with Mrs. Eivens' parents in Hamlin and with Mr. Eivens' relatives in McCaulley and were returning home and perhaps the fog and snow blinded Mr. Eivens and he jammed his car into the bridge on the Clear Fork between the two towns. It proved to be a real pile-up. Behind the Eivens car was Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey McWright of Roby, and they jammed into the wreck, and both received some injury. Next came Mr. and Mrs. McDowell of Lubbock, resulting in a broken arm for the lady. Then a Hamlin or Hitson girl, Miss Letha Edwards, struck but she and none in her car were injured, according to reports.

HEAD-ON WRECK IN TOWN

Monday night about 11:30, two cars stopped head-on to each other on Central Avenue, about where the McCaulley road enters the street. It has been hard to find out much about this wreck. From reliable source, however it seems that one car was driven by a couple of boys from the Tuxedo community driving a Plymouth, and the other car was occupied by the daughter of Charley Durham, and a young man by the name of Patterson of Stamford.

One of the Tuxedo boys was slightly cut, requiring about seven stitches, but Miss Durham was badly injured. Her lower jaw was broken in two places, and cuts on her face required about 60 stitches, and her right leg was broken, perhaps when she was hurled through the windshield. She is in the Stamford hospital and indications are now that she will recover.

ANOTHER WRECK

Last Friday night a bunch of young folks, including Grady Clark, driver, Miss Fay Pack, Spencer Liles, Blackie Boiles, and Leray Baume, were on their way to Rotan and met a car driven by a colored man. The lights they say blinded the driver Clark, and he let his car get off the road into a bad place and the result was a young lady's face was badly cut, requiring many stitches. Only one boy was slightly injured. The colored family was not injured.

Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Ray and family of Truby, came over for their Christmas with their parents.

Congressman Garrett Wants Right Addresses

The Herald has a letter from Congressman Clyde L. Garrett, saying that frequently some of his answers to correspondents fail to reach the proper persons because they did not give the proper return address. This would appear to the constituent that Mr. Garrett did not answer. He says in such cases the constituent should again write and be certain to give the proper address. What town, what box, or what rural route and what county, all written plainly. The concluding paragraph is as follows:

"I make it my duty to my constituents to see that all of their requests and letters be promptly answered. Only those which have been returned to me keep this duty from being fulfilled to the minute and I desire to round out all correspondence."

"This courtesy will be greatly appreciated by me."

Very truly yours,
CLYDE L. GARRETT

D. J. Herbest will not be forgotten during 1940, if the Herald continues to go through the mails. He is making four of his relatives a present, a New Year's gift of the Herald for all of 1940. His brother, J. L. Herbest, Idalou, Texas; R. N. Adams at Tulsa; Kate Jennings at Hobbs, N. M., and I. J. Dixon at Lorenzo. All are sentenced to read the Herald all of 1940. Thanks, D. J. a lot.

Miss Beulah Lou Burns, who is at home from Alpine was taken to the Abilene hospital Monday night for treatment for asthma. The climate at Alpine had enabled her to almost get rid of this trouble, and perhaps the weather and altitude had something to do with the recurrence.

Charlie Bryson is a grandpa now. A fine girl was born Dec. 22 to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Heard at Graham. Her name is Sarah Jo. The mother before her marriage was Hattie Jo Bryson.

This week, Albert Andress ordered the Herald again to his son, Earl Andress in Arlington, Calif. This is his 1940 new year gift to Earl.

COURT TERM TO START MONDAY

The January term of District Court will convene the first day of January, 1940, and continue in session for seven weeks. There will be a jury reporting for the second, third, fourth, fifth, and sixth weeks.

LIST OF GRAND JURORS FOR JANUARY, 1940

H. J. Hansen, Avoca; Sid G. Castles, Anson; Jet Milsap, Anson; P. R. Wright, Nugent; W. A. Albritton, Hamlin; L. M. Hardy, Stamford; F. W. Poe, Hamlin; L. E. Fielder, Hamlin; G. E. Ashburn, Stamford 2; Neal Atkins, Stamford; W. C. Church, Merkel R. 2; J. M. Spurgin, Merkel R. 2; F. M. Johnson, Lueders; Chas. E. Young, Hamlin; G. E. Conner, Hawley; H. E. Brown, Hamlin.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. (Whitey) Griffin and four children of Akerly in Dawson county, came for a Christmas visit with their mother, Mrs. A. G. Hudson and other relatives and Hamlin friends. Mr. Griffin has been managing a gin in his community for several years and he reports several more weeks of ginning yet. While here they visited the Herald building and had the paper sent to them for 1940.

Mr. and Mrs. George Williams of Fort Worth came up Saturday to spend part of the Christmas with their son, Tom Williams and family. They all went to Wellington on Sunday to visit a daughter, Mrs. Stevenson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Eakin and their brother Tom C. Eakin and wife of Sweetwater were called to Vernon Tuesday by the death of their aunt, Mrs. Minnie Byrd. The funeral was held Wednesday morning. She was 74 years of age.

Folks, we hope every subscriber of the Herald will get the paper next week—the 1940 revision of the list must be made and we would like to know your wishes. A dollar does the trick, and only 50 cents if you let us send in your name for a daily.

Tuesday, January 2, 1940 is to be the first big "blow-out" for Hamlinites. Tuesday night at 7:00 o'clock the Hamlin Pied Pipers are going to be banqueted by the citizens of Hamlin, under the sponsorship of the Hamlin Lions Club. The place is at the Morgan Hotel.

All the football boys, and the several coaches, and enough business men and fans to make up a crowd to handle about 110 plates will constitute the number present. Tickets are going to be all sold out long before the time arrives.

Sam Baugh is not quite a Hamlinite, but is so near it that everybody feels that he is. He is really a Sweetwater rancher, but he is better known as the guy who sin-tilated in football at T. C. U., the fellow who is now getting about $15,000 per year on a contract with the Washington Red Skins. Yes, and Sammy was once with the famous St. Louis Cardinals, slamm'n' the baseball about, and that is not all. Sammy Baugh was once one of the leading members of the Hamlin Oilers, and with all this reputation Sam Baugh is going to be the 'chief attraction' at the annual banquet. Those who get a "sit-in" will be lucky.

The closing part of the program will be a Quiz on football, with all questions being shot at Sam Baugh and they say he can take it. Probably those who desire tickets to this football banquet might do well to see somebody like Ted Russell, or Craig Elmore, or Supt. Bennett.

Elementary P.T. A.

Child Labor Week and a Thrift program will be observed by the Elementary P.T. A. in a meeting to be held Thursday, Jan. 4, at the Elementary School.

The program will include entertainment by the 3rd grade; assembly singing, directed by Miss Pauline Harrell; the School Child and Money, Mrs. Q. Martin; Penny Spenders, Mrs. Frank Johnson; Child Labor—Its Significance, Mrs. W. L. Fletcher, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Newsom and Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Hamlin and Miss Lucille Newsom went to Coahoma Sunday for a Christmas visit with their brother-in-law, V. W. McGregor and wife.

GAME FUNDS BUY CHURCH

Quail built a church for the Liberty Community in Northeast Texas.

In 1934 a group of sportsmen in Sulphur Springs and surrounding towns formed the East Texas Field Trial Association. Seeking a suitable area in which to hold the annual trials, the association finally settled upon Liberty Community in Hopkins county. Quail were more plentiful in some other sections, but the spirit of co-operation of residents of Liberty Community sold the association.

When the Field Trials officials

Miss Virginia Jones spent Christmas with her father, G. P. Jones, on their ranch near Maryneal, Texas. She had as her guest, Miss Willa Mae Adams of Abilene.

Headachy, Breath Bad? Make This Check-Up

The Police Siren means "Look-out!" And so do Nature's signals—headaches, biliousness, bad breath, which are often symptoms of constipation. Don't neglect your sluggish bowels, for a host of constipation's other discomforts may result: such as, sour stomach, loss of appetite or energy, mental dullness.

Help your lazy bowels with spicy, all vegetable BLACK-DRAUGHT. Acts gently, promptly, thoroughly, by simple directions. BLACK-DRAUGHT'S principal ingredient is an "intestinal tonic-laxative." It helps impart tone to lazy bowel muscles. Next time, try this time-tested product!

Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Rister, of Norman, Okla., spent the Christmas holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. May.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Shook, Carroll Shook and Howard King of Sweetwater visited Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Teagart and Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Armstrong during the Christmas holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowen Pope and daughter, Miss Doris, spent Christmas in Monahans with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hinkle and little son, Harry Bowen.

Mrs. E. T. McGee of Dallas came up to spend Christmas with her daughter, Mrs. Burns Eakin and other relatives.

presented their problem to the community, landowners saw an opportunity to realize money from their quail crop without harvesting it—a case of eating cake and still having it. So an agreement was reached with the understanding the residents of the community would attempt to build up their supply of quail.

It costs $3 to enter a dog in the field trials. $1 goes to the Association, $1 to the Liberty Community and $1 is for the prize fund. The women of the community add to the proceeds by serving meals.

The affair turned out so successfully that in 1938 the proceeds from the trials was sufficient to enable Liberty Community to erect a substantial church.

From the fruits of early success has come seeds of greater ambition. Both the Association and the Liberty Community residents now feel that more quail on their farms will mean even greater income. Last summer they requested the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission to assist with technical advice on methods of producing a larger crop of Bobwhite. The Game Department biologist for that region made a survey of the locality and concluded that too many fields were devoid of either sufficient food, cover, or both. Consequently, 13 land operators have agreed to build 36 different food and shelter patches. The Association agreed to furnish the wire for fencing purposes while the land owners are furnishing the labor.

KILLED 25-POUND GOOSE

Ever hear of a wild goose bigger than 25 3-4 pounds being killed in Texas? If so the State Game Department would appreciate the information. Jake Moody of Lufkin bagged a goose that oig on the opening day of the season at the K. P. Hunting Club in Trinity county.

VETERAN, 83, GETS LIMITS

George Walker, a veteran Lufkin sportsman who recently observed his 83rd birthday, will tell you hunting conditions are better in Texas than they have been in a good many years. The Vet East Texan bagged a buck in the Lufkin territory the opening day of the deer season and went to the Gulf coast the following day. He brought back his limit of geese and ducks that night.

BAGS DEER IN 2 MINUTES

Dr. George W. Lacy of Ft. Worth may have set a record for other Texans to shoot at when the hunting season lasted just two minutes for him. Hunting in Gillespie county on opening day, Dr. Lacy killed a pair of bucks within two minutes after he started hunting. And that's another record the Game Department would like to know about if it is ever broken.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilbreath Miss Valerie and Ava Hudson and their mother, Mrs. R. M. Hudson, all went to Hobbs, New Mexico, to spend the Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Johnson.

Mrs. Tate May

Complimenting members of the E. L. Class of the First Baptist church, Mrs. Tate May entertained with a Christmas party in her home on Jackson Avenue Friday afternoon.

Yuletide decorations were attractively arranged throughout the home with a brightly lighted Christmas tree as the central feature. The Christmas theme was also emphasized in the attractive refreshment table which held ice cream molded in holly wreaths, cakes, and candies. A devotional was given by Mrs. Bowen Pope, and games were directed by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Bert Whaley and Mrs. Z. T. Wilson.

Gifts were exchanged by class members and a lovely chenille bedspread, a gift from the class, was presented to the teacher, Mrs. Tom Routh. Gifts from the hostess were received by Mrs. M. P. May, Mrs. Frank Johnson, of Dallas and Mrs. Cruett May and little daughter, Margaret Mary, of Denver, Colo. Class members present were Mmes. Tom Routh, J. W. Hines, Earl Smith, Z. T. O. C. Newsom Family

Had Happy Reunion

One of the happy farm families near Hamlin this Christmas was that of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Newsom, who reside five miles southeast of Hamlin. They had all their children with them and old Santa found every one of them.

In the number present were Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Newsom, Jr., and their little daughter, Claudette, of Corcoran, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Loran Francis of Sherman; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Watson of Longview; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Huddleston and four children of Robestown; Mrs. J. L. Palmer and five children of Roby; and Mrs. H. V. Kelley and three children, and Miss Lola Faye and J. E. Newsom of Hamlin. J. E. had been with his brother in California for several weeks and accompanied him back to Hamlin for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Newsom have a pretty rock home on their farm and were able to handle all the visitors in good fashion during the Christmas.

Hamlin Teacher Weds

Girl From Abilene

Miss Ruth King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. King, of Abilene, became the bride of Glenn Caffey, of Hamlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Caffey, of Anson, in a Christmas Day wedding.

The ceremony was read by Rev. Willis P. Gerhardt, in the Heavenly Rest Episcopal Church in Abilene, at ten o'clock, Monday morning.

Harold L. Thomas, organist, gave the wedding music and played a program of prenuptial numbers.

Both Miss King and Mr. Caffey are musicians, having been members of the official quartets of Abilene colleges during their school days, as well as singing in the choir of the First Methodist Church.

Miss King belonged to the Golden Girls quartet at Hardin-Simmons University. She received a degree from the university and since that time has been teaching in the Travis ward school in Abilene. Mr. Caffey is also a graduate of Hardin-Simmons university, but did his first college work in McMurtry, where he belonged to the official quartet. He enrolled at McMurtry following his graduation from Anson High school. Mr. Caffey is coach and an instructor in history and geography in elementary schools of Hamlin.

Mrs. H. A. McCain of Dallas, is spending the week as a guest of her daughter, Mrs. Tom Williams and family.

Aviation Puts Spotlight

On Tiny Isle of Timor

Lying about 300 miles off the northwest coast of Australia, the island of Timor, until recent years, was just another of the Sunda islands which form an arc marking the northeastern extremity of the Indian ocean. There was a Portuguese settlement on the coast a century before Captain John Smith arrived at Jamestown; and the Dutch landed on another part of Timor about the time of the famous Smith-Pocahontas life-saving episode. But today the island shows few effects of long contact with the western world.

Aviation has thrust Timor into the spotlight. In 1934 it was reported that Great Britain wished to purchase the island for an air and naval base. In November, 1938, it reached the news headlines when one of the three British airplanes which took off from Ismailia, Egypt, on the world's record non-stop flight to Australia, was forced down at Koepang because of fuel shortage.

Timor has only a few population centers large enough to be called towns. Koepang, capital and largest town of the Dutch portion of the island, has only 5,500 inhabitants; Dili, chief town of the Portuguese portion, has only 3,500 residents. The island is without railroads, and roads passable by automobiles are few beyond the borders of the towns. Steamships link the Timor ports with neighboring islands and continental harbors, bringing cotton goods, oil and wine, and taking away Timor coffee, copra, hides, cacao, shells, wax and sandalwood.

Timor natives are largely a racial mixture of Malayan, Polynesian and Papuan blood and are divided into numerous tribes. Fighting among tribesmen is frequent. For this warfare bows and arrows are the weapons. Blow guns and small darts are used for hunting. The wardrobe of some native men is only a loin cloth; others wear two-piece cotton garments and turbans. The women adorn themselves in colorful sarongs and shawls. Tattooing, done with crude instruments that often cause blood poisoning and death, is popular. Custom permits a tribesman to have as many wives as he desires to care for his large one-room house of wood and thatched roof. At the front door of these abodes, and among the fruit trees and growing crops, palm leaves are placed in the belief that they keep away evil spirits.

Chest of Drawers Saw

Many Changes in Years

The chest of drawers evolved from its parent, the chest, as early as 1675 and continued to be made by both urban and rural cabinet makers of varying skill and artistic ability until nearly the middle of the Nineteenth century, when factory production marked the end of individual craftsmanship. It not mirrored changing styles, but many pieces suffered various additions and corrections at the hands of well meaning owners who believed in keeping their furnishings up to date, writes Richmond Huntley in American Collector.

Consequently an old chest of drawers may present as many winning and losing tricks as any combination or major and minor suits ever held by human hand.

It takes time, study and many visits to furniture exhibitions to be able to tell easily which of the eight major furniture styles is represented by a particular chest of drawers, even when it is in original condition. Broadly speaking, the feet will give a clue, but only a clue.

Community Forest Profits

There are now more than 1,500 community forest enterprises throughout the country which are operated for community profit, reports the United States forest service. One of the oldest is that of Danville, N. H. It dates to pre-Revolutionary war days. Latest reports show that in the past 100 years it has produced an income of more than $33,000 from sales of timber and other forest products and from interest on loans from a trust fund, now amounting to about $9,000, which was established from early earnings of the 74-acre woodland.

Angora Goat Industry

It is a far cry from Angora goats to automobiles, yet this species of goat provides the raw material for the mohair upholstery found in so many motor cars. One goat must thrive and produce for 10 years to provide enough mohair to upholster the average five-passenger sedan. Consequently, because of the demand of car manufacturers for mohair fabric, the raising of Angora goats has become a major industry, especially in Texas, which produced in 1937 14,000,000 of the 16,558,000 pounds produced in the seven leading producing states.

'Mystic's' Mail Heavy

Alfredo Serrano, the "mystic" who was removed from a sumptuous residence to the jail in Rosario, Argentina, a year ago, still receives thousands of letters monthly. Police recently confiscated 1,434, most of which contained cash, or postal orders, and turned them over to the presiding judge. Serrano recently ordered a luxury automobile while in jail. He is awaiting trial on a charge of failing to make rain as promised for a "chacrero" on the borders of Paraguay.

233 Jones Co. Women 135 Girls In H. D. Work

Thirteen home demonstration clubs with 233 enrolled, and ten girls' 4-H Clubs with 135 enrolled carried on club work in Jones county during 1939. The home demonstration clubs worked on 2 demonstrations, mainly: the kitchen phase of home improvement and parent education and child development.

In the two demonstrations just mentioned some of the accomplishments were as follows: fourteen demonstrators in kitchen improvement greatly improved their kitchens, and 210 co-operators made several improvements. Eight achievements included: bringing water into house and out of house properly, addition of floor coverings and refinishing floor coverings, addition of curtains and improvement of storage.

Five mattress making demonstrations were given the past fall to 87 women and men. The mattresses have proven satisfactory, and it has been an excellent way to use 50 pounds of cotton and 5 pounds of cotton ticking.

In the Parent Education work, 146 women made 2 or more toys, 11 clubs planned and held children parties with 245 children present, 25 women made home-made games.

Although the home food supply demonstration was not a regular demonstration this year, about 85 frame gardens were made in Jones county.

In the girls' 4-H clubs, poultry and clothing were the demonstrations worked on. Some of the accomplishments of the girls in these demonstrations were:

106 girls took posture exercises, 109 brushed teeth twice daily, 118 made kerchiefs, 111 made slips, 100 made cotton dresses, 100 fixed or added feed hoppers, 102 added waterers, 97 provided green feed, 100 girls had 35 or more baby chicks, 66 made poultry scrap books and 99 cooked chicken 3 times or more.

Very truly yours,

GLADYS MARTIN

Federal Judge Denies Indian Fishing Rights

A recent ruling by Federal Judge J. Stanley Webster of Spokane, Wash., denied Indians of the Yakima, Umatilla and Warm Springs tribes the privilege of fishing without restriction "so long as grass grows and water flows in the land of the setting sun."

A treaty signed at Fort Walla Walla in 1855 was to have guaranteed the Indians this right, but Judge Webster held the treaty imposed on the sovereignty of the state and that the state could require $5 license fees from Indians fishing off their reservations.

The ruling came in a test case between the state and Sampson Tulee.

Attorneys for the state declared it was not attempting to rob the Indians of fishing for food any time and any place they wished, but that the intention was to control sale of their catches to commercial white fishermen, who were evading the state's conservation program.

In his opinion, Judge Webster said:

"The treaty conferred on the Indians perpetual easement to go to their fishing grounds but the Supreme court has ruled the sovereign power of the state shall not be restricted. No one would question the right of the state to prohibit Indians from catching fish by the use of dynamite or other illegal means.

"If you acknowledge the state's policing power in such instances, you cannot deny it the right to assess the Indians a reasonable license fee to fish, especially when the funds go toward conservation and preservation of fishing grounds."

Kea, New Zealand Bird, Said to Feed on Mutton

Thousands of feet above sea level, on the highest ranges of the Southern Alps of New Zealand, amid scenes of unsurpassed splendor, where the glittering snow-capped peaks of New Zealand's highest mountains pierce the celestial blue of the southern skies, in regions of eternal snow and ice, where the great blue-green glaciers roll almost imperceptibly down from the highest peaks, at the very limit of the stunted alpine growth, we find that strangest of strange and fascinating birds, the kea.

For centuries this highly aberrant parrot fought the elements and finally won its battle, becoming perfectly adapted to its environments, writes Sydney Porter in Nature Magazine. Then man went to its mountain fastness and the kea found an enemy against which the odds against survival seemed a million to one. Whether the kea will become extinct is a matter of speculation. Some say that owing to the inaccessibility of its haunts it will never be shot out, but there are few spots now in the South Island of New Zealand where the sheep farmers have not penetrated and to the average sheep farmer the kea is what a red rag is to a bull. Everything is being done to foster the idea that the kea feeds on mutton.

That this bird kills sheep, however, seems very doubtful. No one has ever seen a kea kill a sheep. It is always the story of someone who knew someone else whose friend had seen it. No bird in the world is more malignantly libeled than the kea.

New Type 'Pantry'

The modern-day storage closet for canned goods, bulk foods, and miscellaneous items is vastly different from the "preserves pantry" of yesterday, although their function is the same. Vermin-proof storage shelves and bins are now being made for installation in special closets set aside for storage. The shelves are completely sanitary and adjustable, while bins can be obtained in a satisfactory range of sizes for every purpose. Bins which are dust-proof and vermin-proof may be installed to further safeguard food. Fronts are provided with card-holders for suitable identification, while front edges of shelves can be furnished with or without label holders.

Sisters Keep Pace

The "three Wilkinson sisters" of Coventry, England, all their lives have been accustomed to doing things together. Now that they are married they have continued the habit, for they gave birth to baby sons on the same day. The mothers are Mrs. Mavis Sutton, 25; Mrs. Joyce Holland, 24, and Mrs. Doris Waters, 26. Mrs. Waters is really the aunt of the other two, being their father's sister.

Japanese Entertainers Licensed

Aviators, actresses and all other professional entertainers in Japan must be licensed before they can perform in public, according to a new rule inspired by the public safety department of the metropolitan police board in Tokyo. They must pass a strict examination of character, morals and qualifications before they are licensed, and they must be ready to show their license card, similar to that for automobile drivers, whenever required. Once an entertainer's license has been revoked it will not be renewed. Others affected by the regulations include story-tellers, wrestlers, boxers, professional baseball players, summo wrestlers, acrobats, manzai and naniwabushi singers.

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Bronchitis, acute or chronic, is an inflammatory condition of the mucous membranes lining the bronchial tubes. Creomulsion goes right to the seat of the trouble to loosen germ laden phlegm, increase secretion and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding that you are to like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.
